

UI Redesign for Quora and E-learning

Name: Saurabh Jadhav

Quora - Current Homepage

Issues:

1. Redundant information on homepage, such as "Add question" button
2. Use of icons without page names on right side of Quora logo creates confusion for users
3. Clicking on "What do you want to ask or share?" opens a new tab unnecessarily.

Revised Homepage

The screenshot shows the Quora homepage with the following elements:

- Header: Quora logo, search bar (Search Quora), Try Quora+ button, notification bell, and user profile (Saurabh J).
- Left Sidebar: Navigation menu with Home, Spaces, Messages, Following, and Bookmark.
- Central Content: A question "Couldn't computer games be made more realistic?" by Alexander L. The answer by Lawrence C. discusses the realism of Microsoft Flight Simulator (2020).
- Right Sidebar: "+ Create Spaces" button and a list of topics: Machine Learning and AI, Data Analytics Basics, Digital Product Management, Data Engineering, and Cybersecurity.
- Footer: "Messages" button and a small icon.

Changes made:

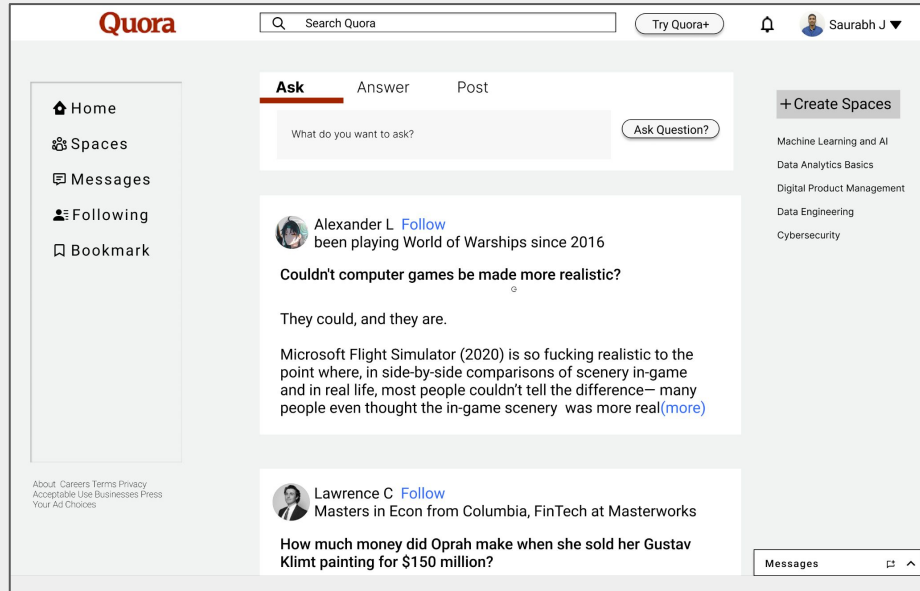

1. Removed redundant information from homepage
2. Simplified homepage by adding page names and logos to the left of the page
3. Updated UI to prevent new tabs from opening when clicking on "What do you want to ask"

Overall, the homepage was streamlined by removing unnecessary information and simplifying the remaining content.

Comparison of existing & revised homepage

The existing Quora homepage features a top navigation bar with the Quora logo, home icon, search bar, and a red 'Add question' button. A left sidebar lists various categories like 'Machine Learning and AI' and 'Data Analytics Basics'. The main content area includes a 'What do you want to ask or share?' prompt, a featured post by James Filippello about speeding to a hospital, a sponsored ad for SmartAsset titled 'The Worst Retirement Mistakes People Make', and a '7 MISTAKES THAT CAN DEplete YOUR RETIREMENT' graphic. On the right, there's an 'Improve Your Feed' section with checkboxes for following spaces and asking questions, and a 'Spaces to follow' list.

The revised Quora homepage has a cleaner layout. The top navigation bar includes the Quora logo, search bar, and a 'Try Quora+' button. A left sidebar lists navigation options: Home, Spaces, Messages, Following, and Bookmark. The main content area features a 'Ask' tab, a search bar for questions, and a featured question: 'Couldn't computer games be made more realistic?' by Alexander L. Follow. Below it is another question: 'How much money did Oprah make when she sold her Gustav Klimt painting for $150 million?' by Lawrence C. Follow. A right sidebar offers '+ Create Spaces' with categories like 'Machine Learning and AI' and 'Data Analytics Basics'. A footer contains 'About', 'Careers', 'Terms', 'Privacy', 'Acceptable Use', 'Businesses', 'Press', and 'Your Ad Choices'.

Issues:

1. Difficulty in accessing individual subject grades; requires multiple clicks
2. Overwhelming amount of information on homepage, hindering navigation to important information
3. Absence of information related to exams.

Revised Homepage

The screenshot shows the revised eLearning homepage. At the top is an orange header with the UT Dallas logo, the text 'THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT DALLAS eLearning', 'eLearning Help Desk 866-588-3192', a user profile for 'Saurabh J', and 'My eLearning'. Below this is a dark green bar with 'COVID19 Resources'. The main content area is titled 'Course List' and features three course cards. Each card displays the course ID, instructor name, and a 'Grade: A' button. Below the course list are two sections: 'To Do' with filters for 'What's Past Due' and 'What's Due' (including a date selector for 04/20/2022), and 'What's New' with expandable lists for 'Announcements (1)', 'Assignments (2)', 'Discussion Board (18)', and 'Exams (2)'.

Improved platform by:

1. Creating separate boxes for each subject with its own overall grade
2. Simplifying homepage by reducing the amount of information displayed
3. Adding a new tab for exam-related updates.

Comparison of existing & revised homepage

The existing homepage features a dark orange header with the UT Dallas logo, "THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT DALLAS eLearning", "eLearning Help Desk 866-588-3192", and a user profile for "Saurabh Jadhav". Below the header is a dark green navigation bar with "Add Module" and "Personalize Page" options. The main content area is divided into several sections: "COVID-19 Resources" (with a list of links), "STUDENTS" (with links to remote learning, library resources, etc.), "FACULTY" (with links to grading instruction, etc.), "Course List" (listing courses like BUAN 6337.001 and MIS 6393.001), "My Announcements" (showing no recent announcements), and "To Do" (with a calendar view for "What's Past Due", "What's Due", and "Today").

The revised homepage has a similar orange header but includes a "COVID19 Resources" link. The navigation bar is dark green and contains "Course List" and "COVID19 Resources". The main content area is simplified, featuring three course cards: "BUAN 6337.001 - Predictive Analytics", "BUAN 6346.502 - Big Data", and "MIS 6393.001 - Foundations of DPM", each displaying a "Grade: A" badge. Below these are two larger cards: "To Do" (with a calendar view for "What's Past Due", "What's Due", and "Today") and "What's New" (with links to "Announcements (1)", "Assignments (2)", "Discussion Board (18)", and "Exams (2)").
